STUDY CHILD NATURE

MUTUAL BENEFIT READING CIRCLE MEMBERSHIP IS ENTHUSIASTIC

The Mutual Benefit Reading Circle has passed through the experimental stage and has now settled into a permanent organization, with a large and enthusiastic membership. There are no absences without very good reason, as the members find that they miss much every time they are compelled to be away. Considering that this is the vacation time, the attendance is excellent. When school opens, the circle will probably have its full quota of members present at each meeting.

During the twenty-three meetings that the circle has had, four excellent books have been read, thoroughly discussed, with oral and written reviews given. These have been, "A Study of Child Nature," by Elizabeth Harrison, "Misunderstood Children," by the same author, "Love and Law in Child Training" by Emilie Poulsou, and "Children's Rights," by Kate Douglas Wiggin. "The Dawn of Character," by Edith E. Read Mumford, has been partly read, chapters on "The Growth of the Imagination" and "The Law of Habit" being under discussion yesterday. Besides these volumes named, the members are reading individually this summer the five fictional works in the course, "Mother," "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," "Bobbie, General Manager," "Pollyanna," and "The House of Happiness."

Present yesterday were twenty-one children, in charge of Miss Mattie Belle Provost; one new member, Mrs. James Campbell of Pasadena; five visitors, Mrs. George Holman and the Misses Kistner, Merritt, Anne Olden and Carrie Ormsby, and the following members: Mmes. A. M. Beaman, C. M. Brubach, R. T. Burr, F. H. Cassell, Harry Duey, E. A. Eckman, H. H. Faries, H. V. Henry, W. R. Heustis, N. C. Kelly, Florence L. Kurtz, O. C. Logan, S. C. Maranville, Ernest McConnell, O. H. Ormsby, C. E. Rathbone, T. W. Sampson, Chas. H. Toll.

Mrs. Toll is the acting leader and hostess, and she has instructed the members to feel at perfect liberty to invite anyone at any time to attend the meetings. Consequently at each meeting there are always visitors, who are cordially welcomed and made to feel at home.

GLENDALE MUNICIPAL BAND

As the concert season for the Glendale Municipal band is drawing to a close the public will do well to go out Friday night and hear the Glendale Municipal band in what is certain to prove one of the most pleasing of the concerts it has been staging. The band, under the able direction of F. E. Thorp and the management of C. D. Furst has made remarkable progress and is able to furnish an entertainment that is on a par with that of any municipal band in Southern California. Mr. Thorp has made up a program that has variety enough to satisfy music-lovers of all classes. The Flotow's overture to "Stradella" and the selections from "Erminie" are varied by a vocal solo by Mr. Leo Good, which should prove a great attraction. The concert will be given in front of the city hall, Friday evening, Aug. 24, at 8 p. m. This will be the eleventh concert of the series.

PROGRAM

March, The Hoosier Club.....Sack
Overture, Stradella.....Flotow
Waltz, Enchantment.....Alberti
Selection, Erminie.....Meyrelles
Vocal Solo, Somewhere a Voice Is Calling (with full band accompaniment).....Tate
Mr. Leo Good
A Tone Poem, Apple Blossoms.....Roberts
March, The Gartland.....Boehlein

CONDEMNATION PROCEEDINGS

The condemnation proceedings made necessary on account of the laying out and improving a public highway in Glendale, which is to be known as the Sycamore Canyon road, involves a great amount of work on the part of the city engineer and the city attorney. City Attorney Evans, who today filed with the proper officials the papers in these proceedings, informs the News that there are 6000 pages of typewritten matter in the papers filed, and there are 113 defendants in the case. The road to be improved covers a distance of about two and a half miles. It is the largest case of condemnation proceedings that has ever come under the jurisdiction of the city attorney of Glendale.

UP MT. WHITNEY

REV. B. D. SNUDDEN CLIMBS THE HIGHEST MOUNTAIN IN THE UNITED STATES

The Rev. B. Dudley Snudden, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, returned Wednesday from a hike through the Kern River canyon and an ascent of Mt. Whitney. He was accompanied by H. G. Baker, Carroll D. Wood, Benjamin Needham of Glendale and H. K. Needham of Los Angeles. The party took the train to Lone Pine. Thence they went on foot with guides and a pack train which carried their baggage.

Ascending by the Cottonwood trail through the famous and wildly picturesque Kern River canyon, thence to Crabtree meadows on the Kings River watershed. "The journey to Mount Whitney," said Mr. Snudden, "is a progress of inspiration and climax. The magic of the mountains is everywhere around. Nothing can exceed the beauty of the headwaters of the Kern River canyon. The Crabtree meadows with their wealth of flowers surpass anything one can imagine. Thence to the summit of the mountain there is a comparatively easy trail. I and three of the party determined to ascend the mountain and view the sunrise. We started up at dusk, missed our trail, and arrived at the summit just in time to see the orb of the sun rising above the horizon. The sight was wonderful.

"At the summit it was blowing a perfect gale and the thermometer showed a temperature of 20 degrees Fahrenheit. We left the mountain and went along the John Muir trail to the headwaters of the Kings river, through Center Basin, across the divide, 13,200 feet in height. Mount Whitney is no towering, isolated summit. It is a climax. Here the Sierra has massed her mountains, tumbled them wilfully, recklessly, into one sprawling, titanic heap. The effect is imposing. Out of this heap one peak emerges higher than the rest. That is Mount Whitney. It is 14,501 feet.

"On our way we threaded passes, skirted precipices, edged glaciers to the summit. We came out by Kearsarge Pass to Independence, whence we took the train to Mojave and thence to Los Angeles.

"One of the most interesting incidents of the journey to me was the finding of a piece of ancient, prehistoric pottery. It is in fairly good preservation and was probably made by some of the very earliest tribes. I found it on Bubb's creek, the headwaters of Kings river. It was resting quietly under an overhanging ledge, in something like a cave. I treasure it highly. The fishing in those mountain streams is excellent and we were never without trout for our meals."

SUPPORT LOCAL CANDIDATE

There is an excellent opportunity for the people of Glendale to show their home spirit at next Tuesday's primary election by supporting Stephen C. Packer for candidate for supervisor of the Fifth district. It is evident to every person who wishes to consider the question fairly that Mr. Packer's qualifications to fill the office which he seeks compare very favorably with those of the outside candidates. He is a gentleman who has the respect and confidence of the business men and other people of Glendale who know him best. The 2,000 citizens of this community who last January asked that he become a candidate were then aware of his qualifications and since that time many others have become personally acquainted with Mr. Packer and are supporting him very enthusiastically.

The management of the Evening News always stands ready to support a candidate for any office who belongs to the Glendale community providing the qualifications of such candidates at all merit support.

There are a number of men in Glendale whom the Evening News would be pleased to support for any high office in county, state or district. If any of the Glendale ladies who are recognized leaders in civic affairs should be candidates for office against ladies in outside communities the News would stand outspoken for the candidacy of the local ladies. This matter of community pride is something that is of importance and really lies at the foundation of the making of a successful city. People of a community must co-operate and boost for one another whenever an occasion for such co-operation is presented.

W. P. Francy is taking a vacation from his duties in the First National Bank of Glendale, and with his wife is enjoying the delights of beach life at Venice.

ACCUSES AMERICANS OF TRACKING HIS BOAT

CAPTAIN KOENIG OF THE DEUTSCHLAND SAYS A FLEET OF AMERICAN FISHING BOATS FOLLOWED HIM

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
BERLIN, Aug. 24.—Captain Koenig, of the Deutschland, which reached the mouth of the Weser, Aug. 23, and anchored off the mouth of the river, complains that he was tracked by a fleet of American fishing boats, that endeavored to keep his trail and so betray his whereabouts to the British watchers outside. The Deutschland left Baltimore Aug. 1 with a cargo of rubber and metal, which will prove very useful in Germany.

GERMAN ATTACKS ON THE SOMME FAIL

GEN. FOCH REPORTS THAT TWO TEUTON ASSAULTS IN GREAT FORCE WERE REPULSED WITH LOSS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
PARIS, Aug. 24.—The Germans in considerable force conducted a series of assaults on the French positions on both sides of the Somme, Gen. Foch reports. The attacks were conducted after considerable artillery preparation, which had done little damage. Both attacks broke down under the French curtain of fire. At Belloy and Estrees the fighting was severe and long contested. The Germans at that point penetrated even to the French entanglements, but got no farther.

ZEPPELINS RAID EAST COAST OF ENGLAND

GERMAN AIRSHIPS DROP MANY BOMBS IN ESSEX AND KENT BUT FAIL TO DO DAMAGE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
LONDON, Aug. 24.—Several Zeppelins, taking advantage of the favorable winds, drifted to the East coast of England last night and dropped many bombs in the counties of Essex and Kent. No damage was done. The British anti-aircraft guns drove off the intruders and the defense airships drove them out to sea. It is not known if any of the Zeppelins were damaged. Up to date the Allies have destroyed thirty-five Zeppelins. There have been thirty-four air raids on England. In ten of these there was no damage and altogether 334 civilians and 50 militiamen have been killed.

SUBMARINE BREMEN EXPECTED TOMORROW

AGENTS OF EASTERN FORWARDING COMPANY STATE THAT BREMEN WILL ARRIVE SHORTLY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
BOSTON, Aug. 24.—Agents of the Eastern Forwarding Company, owners of the Deutschland, which has just successfully completed her journey across the Atlantic, and of the Bremen, a sister submarine of the merchant type, stated this afternoon that they expect that the Bremen will land in the United States late Friday.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE TURKISH REGIMENTS

BATTLE IN GALICIA RESULTS IN TAKING OF MANY PRISONERS AND MUCH BOOTY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
PETROGRAD, Aug. 24.—After considerable fighting the Russians managed to break through part of the Austro-German line in Galicia. The assault was so strongly pushed and so suddenly made that the Russian wedge threw out of the line of retreat two Turkish regiments. Firing themselves cut off the two regiments surrendered. Along with the regiments the Russians captured a great deal of booty.

RAILWAY DIRECTORS LIKELY TO GIVE IN

PRESIDENT WILSON'S FIRM STAND IS TELLING ON THE MANAGERS OF THE ROADS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 24.—From all indications today the railroad managers will give in on the question of the eight-hour day. President Wilson's attitude on the question of compelling the owners to accept an eight-hour day is well known. Today he was backed up in that attitude by the leaders of two powerful committees created to deal with matters relating to interstate commerce. They hold that Congress has power to pass an eight-hour law. Rather than face this legislation it is believed the railway managers will consent to the eight-hour proposition.

EXPERT SAYS HIGH PRICES TEMPORARY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 24.—Leon Estabrook, government food expert, stated today that the high prices of food were merely temporary, resulting from poor crops and obeying the law of supply and demand. At the same time it is intimated that wheat will go up to $2 within a week as the result of the black rust plague. An increase of 20 cents a barrel was quoted on flour today.

WILL RETURN SOON

MRS. ELLA RICHARDSON LOOKS FORWARD WITH JOY TO COMING HOME

Mrs. Ella Richardson, who has been spending a protracted vacation in the East, writes to the Glendale Evening News that she appreciates the many acts of kindness shown her by her friends there, but that there is no place like Glendale. "I have had a splendid visit," she writes, and will be home soon. It was strange to have the pictures of my Glendale home follow me everywhere. When the moving picture company asked permission to take the pictures they said that they would advertise Glendale. They have certainly done so.

"My relatives in Arlington attended the picture show and invited our other relatives. They came in from as far as Concord. The pictures were shown in Cambridge, at the Harvard Theater, and a party of the faculty of the university attended with me. Some had visited me in Glendale and were delighted to revive memories of the town they had visited. I append a story of my trip through a shoe factory:

"It is very seldom one is allowed to go through the shoe factory of Boston, but my friend (interested in the firm of the United Shoe Machinery Co., a company which does not sell but rents its machines to the shoe companies) secured a pass for me, and a gentleman from the office as guide. He knew not only each machine, but many of the operators by names. This made the trip very pleasant. The building was nine stories, fire-proof, 100 feet wide, glass windows the length of the side, and each floor was one room.

The help is mostly paid by the piece. They all seemed interested in their work. The shoe passes through one hundred and six different pairs of hands and is obliged to conform to the requirements of fifty-four different machines, each performing with unyielding accuracy the various operations for which they are designed. It might seem that in all this multiplicity of operations confusion would occur, and become hopelessly entangled, but such is not the case. The art of making shoes is one of the most ancient of human hand crafts.

It has been shown that one of the earliest necessities felt by man was some kind of protection for the feet and that his ingenuity was promptly exercised in providing a suitable covering for them. Strange as it may seem, the development of the craft of shoemaking to the present highly organized industry has been accomplished in the last half century. It was by the introduction of machinery for performing some of the more difficult parts of the work that this mighty change was inaugurated.

The passing of the old-fashioned shoemaker, however, presents a most interesting phase of our commercial development, for it is well within the limits of a decade that he of the lapstone, the awl and the waxed ends disappeared, and in his place has come the modern shoe factory, clean, well lighted and highly organized.

Let us go through this factory together:

1. They carefully examine each hide as to quality of shoes and number it will make.

2. The cutter places his pattern or dies, which are but three-quarters of an inch in height and are so light they do not mar the most delicate leather when placed upon it. These dies are made to cut out all the different designs and sizes required in the upper of the shoe. They mark the vamps for the location of the tip and for the foxing. The die placed, the beam is swung, pressing the die through the leather. This accomplished the beam automatically returns to its full height.

3. These tops are sown together in back.

4. A tape is stitched on each side of the seam by a two-needle machine.

5. The edges which show in the finished shoe must be skived or thinned down to a beveled edge. This work is performed by a wonderful little machine which cuts it down to the desired bevel. This is done in order that the edges may be folded.

6. These edges are given a little coating of cement.

7. A machine turns back the edge and incidentally pounds it down so that it presents a very smooth and finished appearance.

8. There may be innumerable designs of ornamental perforations cut along the edge of the cap. This is done by the Power Tip Press.

9. The lining is now in.

10. The shoe is ready to receive the eyelets, which are placed with remarkable speed. This machine eyelets both sides of the shoe at the same time. They are securely and

JOIN PACKER PARADE

CANDIDATE'S FRIENDS MUST BE ON HAND SATURDAY AT 4 P. M.

Clem Moore has made all arrangements for the big Packer parade, to be held Saturday, Aug. 26, at 4 p. m. All friends of the Glendale candidate for supervisor are requested to be on hand with their autos and those who are to accompany them, in front of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce building, at 4 o'clock. The parade will start promptly at that hour and will traverse the principal points of the Fifth Supervisorial district. Mr. Moore intimates that the parade will wait for nobody.

The route of the parade will be from Broadway to Central to Tropicana, via San Fernando road, to Broadway, Los Angeles, south on Broadway to Sunset, along Sunset Boulevard to the Plaza, north on Main street to Eastlake park, south on Broadway to Dailey, thence to Pasadena avenue, through Highland Park to Fair Oaks, South Pasadena, north on Fair Oaks to Colorado, west on Colorado to Eagle Rock.

At Eagle Rock there will be a brief pause in order that an opportunity for a few minutes speaking may be taken, during which time Mr. Packer will explain his candidacy and ask the support of the voters of Eagle Rock. The parade will then start for Glendale, which should be reached about 6:45 p. m. The autos will proceed to Broadway, west of Brand boulevard, where the final halt will be made and a meeting held to advocate Mr. Packer's election as supervisor from Glendale for the Fifth Supervisorial district.

KALEM STAGES FIRE SCENE

Large numbers of those who were aware of the intention of the Kalem company to stage a thrilling scene in the series "The Girl From 'Frisco" made their way out to the studio on Verdugo road, Wednesday night. The road on both sides in the vicinity of the studio was lined with autos and another crowd on motorcycles and bicycles and on foot made its way out also. The Glendale fire department was on hand in case of accident from the burning of the house in the episode, and the passing of the big truck aroused quite a few more, who also rushed to the scene.

The audience amounted to about 400 people and they saw a well-staged set of scenes. The episode was one dealing with fake Hindoo mysticism and cowboys. Several exciting attacks were made on a nicely constructed 2-story house, cleverly built with a nice veranda and trees about it. It was the object of the fake mystics, to capture this house and seize the heroine. The attack was realistic in the extreme and there was enough shooting and killing to satisfy the artistic feelings of the crowd. Meantime the nice-looking house had caught fire and began burning with great fury, while the mob charged in and out. The Hindoo's attacks were driven off by the cowboys leaving a number of their company dead in front of the burning house, which made a most picturesque blaze and finally fell in and blazed up once more before it burned out. Thereupon the big crowd dispersed, highly pleased with the spectacle.

GLENDALE VOLUNTEERS

The Glendale Volunteers assembled as usual Wednesday evening, at the drill hall, First and Glendale. Captain Johnson was in charge, assisted by Lieut. Nicols. The attendance was fairly good and the practice was excellent. In squad drill and in skirmish drill the men showed the effects of the training already given them. The company will meet again Wednesday, Aug. 30, at the same place and hour.

accurately spaced. With the completion of this operation, the preparation of the shoe upper is finished, and the different lots with their tags are sent to the bottoming room to await the coming of the different sole leather portions of the shoe. These have been undergoing preparations in the sole leather room, where on receipt of a tag from the foreman are given directions for the preparation of out soles, insoles, counters, toe boxes and heels to conform with the requirements of the order.

CONDITIONS IN THE WAR ZONE

Those who have been expecting a sudden end to the war have need to observe what is going on in Europe. The war is in its third year and there is as yet not the slightest sign that it is going to end all of a sudden. The forecast that it would last three years is almost certain to be fulfilled. The start that Germany got with her many years of preparation has been by no means easy to overcome. Germany is still fighting with all her might and has poured new masses of men on to all of the fronts.

On the Picardy front Germany is credited with having brought together as strong a fighting body as that possessed by the French and British. They have also gathered together the largest collection of field guns ever seen. Their munitions stores are so vast that it is folly to talk of exhausting them. During the past winter their artillery experts have perfected a field gun that fires so quickly and has so enormous an initial velocity that the shell and the sound arrive together at the point aimed at. This gives the men in the hostile trenches no warning and the consequence is that the slaughter in the trenches has been vastly increased.

The other side will likely come out with some other improvement in the means of killing men and so the deadly slaughter goes on from day to day and week to week and the end is still far off.

As if to add to the horrors of the war a new lining up of forces has been begun on the frontier of Greece. That country is in a sad position. It has been unable to take the part it would like to take in the war—that is, on the side of the Allies and it is consequently torn internally with dissension that may soon degenerate into civil war. The king is pro-German; the leading statesmen are pro-ally and the consequence has been that Greece has stood idle while opportunities have passed her door. After all she may be compelled to enter into the contest for the Bulgarians have attacked Greek forces and killed some of them and Greek soldiers have fired into Bulgarian troops and killed some of them. Here is the making of a new quarrel.

Meantime the Allies in Greece have begun an advance, which has been countered by a similar advance on the part of the Bulgarians. Russia is sending strong bodies of men to aid in the fighting and Germany and Austria are also sending their men, as many as they can spare, to this new front of battle. There will be a severe strain on the Central Powers to meet these attacks and it is a high tribute to their efficiency that they should be able to keep so many different fights going at once.

Germany was fortunate in being able to seize, according to her plan long thought out and arranged, the districts of France whence she can get the iron for the manufacture of steel. Manufacturing about 60,000 tons of steel daily she is in a position with her wonderful Krupp works to manufacture an unlimited number of field guns. She has done so and is doing so. The only thing she cannot manufacture at the same rate is soldiers. The supply of fighting men is certain to run out some time. But it is by no means exhausted and as long as she can keep her ranks full there will be no end to the war. In this way it is pretty certain that another year of severe fighting is before the world, before any one of the combatants will cry, "Hold, enough."

WHEN DEFEAT IS VICTORY

"He saved others; himself he cannot save." Who does not remember the sneer with which the mockers of Jerusalem passed by a certain tragic spot and wagged their heads and curled their lips and went home satisfied that they had heard the last of the teachings of Jesus of Nazareth. Yet that was only the beginning of a new lease of life for the teachings which speedily swept away from the ruins that marked where Jerusalem once stood. Victory is often the worst defeat and defeat often the greatest victory.

There are today many heroes fighting in a losing cause and they will know it when it is all over; but they persevere; they do not lay down their arms and give up. In a moment when all seems lost there may be found the turning point of success. This is what calls for the greatest of all courage, the courage that can hold on to the end, whatever that end may be.

That is courage, real courage, when some great battle in life faces one with the inevitable choice of giving up all one has been striving after and acknowledge defeat. That is the easiest way; but the real man never takes it. He manifests the greatest courage and demonstrates the finest spirit who continues to fight on even when all seems lost. "Confound those fellows," said one of Napoleon's marshals, concerning a certain British regiment, "they don't know when they're beaten." They had been beaten according to all the laws of strategy and tactics; but they refused to credit it, continued fighting and finally drove the technical victors from the field.

When victory is before one it is easy to fight; but it is not so easy to fight when there is no prospect of victory; yet men have done so in the common encounters between one nation and another. Men have held out in apparently indefensible places for months until help arrived, just because they were determined not to give in.

That is the true spirit that animates every real man in this world. What matters life or death or angels or principalities or powers, if only one is right. That is the spirit that has characterized every man, who has left his mark on this world through work, suffering and death. Death is the easiest thing to a man who feels that duty is greater than selfish ease and truth higher and nobler than what is false.

Men of this stamp have in all ages carried on the work of the world; men who in the fervor of their belief inspired others. The man who, undaunted faces misconception, vilification, persecution, strong in the consciousness that he is right has already won the victory. In the first place he has won the victory over himself

LA CANADA

Miss Lillian Selleck entertained a coterie of young ladies at her parental home on School street, Friday afternoon. The afternoon was very pleasantly spent in "chatting and needlework." Delicious refreshments were served in the beautiful patio late in the afternoon. Hospitality was extended to Mrs. Rachael Bentley, Mrs. Dwight Cooper, the Misses Margaret and Rowena Green, Dorothy Lester, Lulu Green, Fannie Jewett, Katheryne Green and Clara Armstrong.

A merry group of young people of the valley motored to Brookside Park, Thursday evening, Aug. 17, and enjoyed supper in the park. Swimming was enjoyed for awhile, then the time for hot weiners and buns had arrived. In the evening the party enjoyed Mae Murray in the "Dream Girl." Those who made up the party included, Mr. and Mrs. Max Green, Helen Cooper, Rowena Green, Henrietta Horne, Lulu Green, Clara Armstrong, Katheryne Green, Dorothy Lester and Lawrence Lester. Edwin Cooper, Hardwick Van Degrift, Williard Barnum, Robert Horne and Robert Cooper.

The La Canada Valley Improvement association held its regular meeting in the club hall, Saturday evening, Aug. 19. Mr. P. A. Johnson, the vice-president, presided over the meeting. The question concerning the bridge being closed over Devil's Gate was discussed pro and con. Mr. Wm. Jewett gave the report of the Executive committee, but they had not accomplished as yet what they set out to do.

After the business was transacted Mr. Ralph G. Graham, candidate for District Attorney, gave a very interesting and impressive address on "Local Patriotism." With this address the meeting adjourned to the social time. Ice cream and cake were served.

Miss Ruth Lamb of Pasadena is spending a few days with Mr. Cecil

The school house has been moved on the north end of the school lot, and this surely means that work on the new school house will be begun at once.

The curbs are being put in on Roy avenue, and sand is being hauled on Texas street, so that curbs will soon adorn that street.

Mr. H. L. Cooper and family motored to Fullerton Sunday and spent the day with friends.

Mrs. E. G. Metcalf and small son David have gone north to San Francisco, expecting to spend some time with relatives.

Dr. and Mrs. D. B. Scott have been spending a few days at the San Diego Exposition and other places of interest.

Sunday School will be closed until after the 3rd of September, so that there are no services held in the church until after the first Sunday in September.

Mrs. Ethel Alderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. McMullin, has been spending the past week with her father.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Welch, and Miss Frankie Welsh have just returned from a visit to San Diego. The party motored down in Mr. William's Cadillac and report a fine journey.

Contract bids for work on the new La Canada school house will be opened on Monday, August 28th, 1916, at 2 o'clock p. m., in the old school building.

Mr. Paul Arvidson, of Northern California, has joined his brother and sister in spending a few weeks with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Stultz, and their aunt.

Miss Gladys Granger, in company with her parents and friends from San Francisco, has been spending a few days at San Diego.

Mrs. Albert Van Degrift and Miss Henrietta Horne spent Tuesday of last week at Redondo Beach.

Harold Carr of Arcadia, Florida, has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. Baker, of La Canada, the past few days. He has come to California to finish his education at the U. S. C. For the past three years he has been attending the John B. Stetson University in Deland, Florida. He is the son of Frank L. Carr, who was foreman of the Fay Fruit Packing company in Glendale, about fifteen years ago. From the time Mr. Carr left Glendale he has made rapid advances. Seven years ago the Florida Exchange sent to California for a good packing house man and he was persuaded to go there and manage an exchange at Florence Villa. A year ago he accepted an offer to manage the Arcadia Association of the Florida Citrus Exchange, and also manage the De Soto County sub exchanges. The Arcadia Association has had just one year of life, but Mr. Carr looks for a large output the coming season. They have one of the finest equipped packing houses in the state. The Parker Machine company of Riverside, Calif., received the contract. The packing house has an output of 12 cars, or approximately four thousand boxes of packed fruit a day. The fruit district of Arcadia covers an area of nearly 12 miles. Mr. Carr is one of the most efficient and highest salaried men in that business in the state.

and in the second place victory awaits him as the reward of his manful stand.

Life is but a means unto an end. That end is not and cannot be selfish gratification; nor self aggrandizement at the expense of others. That end is the attainment of truth, of such truth as shall make out of this earth a very Eden, perfect, stainless, without misery and ever reaching higher. Through the struggle to attain this infinite end comes the strength which makes a man or woman strong in all that is right, perfect in forwarding the will of the Most High. The fight may seem without result and the man may die; but his very death is one of the steps in the path of victory.

DON'T HUNT FOR TROUBLE

Don't hunt after trouble, but look for success;

You'll find what you look for; don't look for distress.

If you see but your shadow, remember, I pray,

That the sun is still shining, but you're in the way.

Don't grumble, don't bluster, don't dream and don't shirk;

Don't think of your worries, but think of your work.

The worries will vanish, the work will be done;

No man sees the shadow who faces the sun.

Making Massage Mean More

A "fool notion," like a cat, has nine lives. Do what you like with it—shoot it, hang it, drown it, tar-and-feather it—up it bobs me-owing!

You can't kill the "fool notion" that Massage is nothing more or less than a "fancy rub-down." And this despite the fact that Massage or Massotherapy—as practiced at this institution—is now universally recognized as a definite healing agent.

There is a tremendous difference between a crude, haphazard rub-down and a scientific massage administered by a trained attendant. It isn't merely a matter of stroking and kneading the body. It involves an exact knowledge of anatomy—a definite understanding of the body's construction and its response to such procedures.

A treatment in our Massage Rooms will not alone send you home tingling with new life and energy—but will awaken a keener appreciation of the word Massage—as we use it here.

Right now is a splendid time to test us!

Treatment Rooms open 9 A. M. to 9 P. M., except Saturday. Trained Nurses of both sexes in attendance. For rates and appointment telephone Glendale 2 or Home 1213

BURBANK

Trustees' Meeting

"Iron" policemen were ordered by the Burbank city trustees at their regular weekly meeting, Tuesday afternoon. It was moved by Trustee Forbes and seconded by Trustee Linn that City Engineer F. Curt Miller be instructed to install concrete bases for the "permanent" police on San Fernando boulevard.

First action was taken by the board to change the meeting hour of the regular weekly council meetings. It is proposed in the new ordinance, which was carried, that the board change its time of meeting from 1 p. m. Tuesdays to 7:30 o'clock on the same days of each week.

It was agreed by the board that if Contractor Farley would give permission, certain parts of the new city hall would be used before it had been accepted.

President Blanchard appointed Trustees Hogle and Forbes as a committee to look into the matter of closing an alley back of property owned by Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Spencer. The two latter mentioned people appeared before the board to request such action.

The following bills were ordered paid by the board:

Town Marshal Busy

Marshal O. S. Greenwood has been one of the busiest men in Burbank during the past week. Sunday evening he was called to the ranch home of W. H. Moore by Mrs. Moore to take her husband in custody. As Moore had been out of jail on probation, Recorder W. A. Thompson gave him 90 days in the county jail for his abusive treatment of his family while intoxicated.

During the sunlit hours of Sunday Marshal Greenwood succeeded in catching up with five speeders, who turned $38 into the city treasury. These were exceedingly light sentences.

The new jail in the new city hall building has been used every night this week, one or more drunks, suspects, or hoboers being picked up by the marshal on his 24 hour shift.

Burbank Wins 10 to 6

The Burbank baseball team outplayed the Los Angeles Firemen's nine last Saturday afternoon by a score of 10 to 6. Thompson and Barager was Burbank's battery. Linn made the only spectacular play of the day when he made a barehanded catch of an overthrow to first base in the ninth inning. This made the last out. Second baseman Bill Clark threw three out in the fifth inning and otherwise played a perfect game.

The Burbank team meets the General Petroleum company team here this Saturday. This will be the first league game in the L. A.-Orange Counties League. It is expected that Arkenburg of Pasadena will pitch. Negotiations are under way for a former Western League catcher.

Little Girl Burned

Little Louise Luttge, small daughter of George Luttge, was seriously burned the first of the week when she played with a burning stick in a bonfire. The girl was burned about the arms and body. Although the burns are serious, the child will recover.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Kahl left for San Diego Sunday night for a week's visit at the fair.

Lorraine Mitchell, Myrtle Pulliam, Eula Richardson, Emily Ellias, Iva Hunter, Lillian Eaton, John Smalley and Shives Mitchell motored Monday to the Big Tujunga, where they spent their time in the camp and in outdoor sports. After a very pleasant time they returned to Glendale Thursday.

Clem Moore is about to start on his northern trip, in connection with his Toledo Gas Floor Furnace agency. He has the agency for the entire Pacific coast. Mr. Moore will leave at the beginning of the week and will visit all the towns between Los Angeles and San Francisco, both on the Valley and Coast routes.

Mrs. T. J. Keleher, 228 N. Louise, was a guest at a pleasant luncheon, given at the Sierra Madre club, Monday, in honor of Mrs. W. H. Hodges of Chicago and Mrs. J. J. Bossert. Eight other ladies were guests. The room was beautifully decorated in yellow and white, with a profusion of California poppies. After luncheon the party enjoyed the matinee at the Orpheum.

The Rev. M. A. Frost, who preaches at the Congregational church Sunday, Aug. 27, will speak on the subject, "Is Life Worth Living?" Mr. Frost will spend a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Von Owen, 830 Columbus avenue. The two families were intimate friends in their former home in Eastern Iowa. Mr. and Mrs. Frost will arrive in Glendale Sunday morning, by auto, from Monrovia, after a week's trip through the mountains.

W. Le Masters and family, Charles Hanawalt and sister Luelia, Mrs. Catherine Deacon, of Bakersfield, and W. E. Shelly and family, spent Sunday and Monday at Wildwood, a camp located at the head of Tuna Canyon in the Verdugo mountains.

The young son of C. C. Buck, while exploring the higher altitudes, fell off the roof, but escaped anything more serious than a scalp wound.

Mr. Trumpp and Mr. Rody, former residents, were in town last week renewing old acquaintances.

SUMMER RAIN IN THE CITY

For days and days the sun has blazed on wall and street, the city languid lies, dry-blistering in the heat; the very roofs have opened their mouths the rain gods to entreat.

A smoky haze has smothered every view from sight; the murky air is throbbing with a yellow light.

And little children pant and moan, too weak to cry outright.

How dark it grows, and hark; a rumble in the sky.

A drop—a pause—then pour the rains from founts on high, And now the city smiles again, and heaves a thankful sigh.

THE FOOTHILLS

Under the cloudless blue they lie, Golden hills in the golden sun; Rising up to the mountains high, Reaching down where the rivers run.

Smooth and bright as a beaten strand, Fresh and strange as an unsailed sea,

Billowing out on either hand, Sweet with a magical witchery.

Up to the springs of youth they lead, Under the edge of the purple pines;

Ways untainted by toil or greed, Paths where peace in its fullness shines;

Winds of healing above them pass, Free and fresh in their stainless might;

Golden ripples the mountain grass, Golden stretches the boundless light.

Oh, to be there where the foothills rise,

Far away from the homes of men, Oh, to be where the foothills rise,

Up to their glorious slopes again! All day long my feet must fare Over the paths by toilers trod,

But, oh, to kneel on that altar stair Lifted up by the hills of God!

NEW STUDY COURSES

New York University at its summer school has embodied some unusual and practical ideas in the courses offered. One of these is the expert training of teachers to instruct factory workers. Throughout the country factory owners are constantly settling damage suits for accidents by green and inefficient workers. To put a trained instructor into a factory, to show the hands how to work, is really a matter of economy. These teachers are trained to supervise and operate the regular factory machines in the classroom.

It is the object of this teaching to provide better workers, who would save the owner enough in unwasted material to justify the paying of higher wages. It has been discovered that the most expensive people in the world are those who get the cheapest wages.

Another innovation is that the instructor in the class of journalism teaches the students the make-up of a high-school or college journal so that future editors and reporters may know something beyond the mere writing of their articles. Proof reading, editorial policy, the methods of stimulating school interest through school journals, methods of

COAL IN CALIFORNIA

The records of the State Mining Bureau of California show a production of coal in California as early as 1861. At that time it was one of the 16 coal-producing States and, relatively, of some importance as a coal producer.

During the later part of that decade and throughout the following decade the coal production of California exceeded 100,000 tons annually and reached a maximum of 236,950 tons in 1880. Since 1881 the production has been irregular, having been influenced chiefly, up to the beginning of the present century, by the imports of Australian and British Columbian coals, the receipts of Australian coals depending principally upon the wheat production and shipments from the Pacific Coast. Since 1900, however, according to the United States Geological Survey, with the great increase in the production and use of petroleum which began in that year, coal production in California has fallen off.

And what if we fail of our purpose here?

It is but to keep the nerves at strain, To dry one's eyes, and laugh at a fall, And,

STEPHEN C. PACKER will be elected Supervisor at the Primaries if Glendale, Tropico and Casa Verdugo voters will do their duty August 29th. The polls will be open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. All persons who have registered since January 1st, 1916, can vote for Supervisor and other County officials whether party affiliations were stated or not. Later on a list of telephones will be published where voters may call for free Auto service to and from the polls on election day.

SUNLAND

Mr. Earl Sims has put on a new auto bus between Sunland and the car line. This makes traveling more convenient and comfortable. Mr. Sims is always looking for the comfort and convenience of his patrons.

Mrs. Henry Branstetter has purchased a beautiful new Stein piano for the use of the Park hotel. Sunland is truly a music center, thanks to Mr. Maygrove.

Dr. Chase of Glendale is attending Mr. Ed Winsor, who came home from Arizona very ill.

Mrs. Lyman Maxwell and Mrs. Carroll of Los Angeles were callers in Sunland Thursday.

Mrs. Ryan of Los Angeles, a former resident of Sunland, is spending a few days with Mrs. Geo. Bernhard and visiting other old friends.

Mrs. L. T. Rowley and brother, H. Newcomb, were transacting business in the city Thursday.

John D. Roach, registrar for the Government land office in Los Angeles, spent the week-end with his family at the Monte Vista Tavern. It was Mr. Roach's first visit to the valley. He came here upon the recommendation of Alex Mitchell. Mr. Roach says he never saw anything more beautiful than this valley and is well pleased, and will come again.

We are glad to note the advancement of a former Sunland boy, Rev. James Adams, pastor of the Holiness Church at Garvanza, has been appointed chairman of the Holiness work of Southern California.

Miss Helen Ball and sister Margaret and Miss Louise Maxwell were visiting in Sunland Wednesday.

Both the Tavern and the Park hotel are preparing for a large crowd of people from the Majestic-Reliance Film company, who are taking a Spanish scene on the Mears ranch and other places in the canyon.

Mr. Ed. Winsor, who was very ill, has been taken to the County hospital. His illness, which was at first thought to be typhoid fever, has developed into uremic poisoning, and there is but little hope of his recovery.

The party of young people who have been spending their vacation on Mt. Gleason, returned Friday evening very tired and nearly shoeless, but reported a perfectly grand time. They reported the scenery exceeded their highest expectation of it. They enjoyed watching the animals in the great natural zoo, especially the deer. One of the boys reported that he had seen thirty-two all together. Fresh mountain lion tracks were found one morning near the camp.

The days were spent in taking hikes and exploring new territory. The evenings were spent in singing and playing games. The young people did not take a vacation in their religious life, but Sunday was kept by having Sabbath School in the morning while the squirrels and chipmunks helped make the congregation and the birds helped form the choir. In the evening Christian Endeavor was held about the camp fire. The young people think Dr. Hammond was an excellent chaperone, being very congenial and on his job also. Among the trophies brought back were six rattles and a button taken from a snake killed at the top of Mt. Gleason. Some small pine cones and a sack of pine nuts were also brought along.

The Christian Endeavor society of Sunland will have for guests the society of Tujunga C. E. Sunday evening, Aug. 27th. Subject, "Carelessness Versus Thoughtfulness." Scripture found in Heb. 2:1-7. Leaders, Lita Adams and Gladys Eagler. Everybody invited.

L. T. Rowley will attend the convention of Commercial Secretaries of Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties, which meet at Santa Ana Friday, August 25.

TU JUNGATown Meeting

At the town meeting which is the clearing house of the community, the following subjects were up for discussion Tuesday evening: European War, by the moderator, F. M. Ashby; Candidates for public office by Dr. Kearney, Mr. Malona, Mr. Adam, Mr. Costello and Mrs. Frost. Mr. C. E. Jones was called upon to give an expression of his opinion as to district attorney. P. J. Blake discussed the merits and shortcomings of the different candidates for supervisor. There is considerable difference of opinion concerning these candidates. Again the subject of a harvest home festival was broached. Mr. Malona made a motion that we have a harvest festival some time in October. His motion included the appointment of a committee of arrangement. It was nine o'clock before Judge Gavin W. Craig, the speaker of the evening, appeared. He had been detained in a case, the proceedings of which could not be shortened. The subject of the judge's address was "Failure to Provide." He has never found anyone without a conscience. He said: The court has very little sympathy for the man who does not provide for his family. The self-respect of a man must be cultivated and not stunned. Every consideration is shown first offenders and every chance given a man who shows any disposition to make good. Judge Craig gave a brief review of the usual proceedings in a case of failure to provide and cited several instances. Selfishness is at the root of all such cases.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Cloetta and baby of Highland Park came in their auto last Sunday and spent the day with Mrs. Cloetta's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Greenfield. Miss Moreland of Michigan avenue spent last week visiting with friends in Los Angeles.

At the close of the address an opportunity was given for those who wished to ask questions. Judge Craig is a very pleasant and affable gentleman to meet and his audience was wholly impressed in his favor.

Birthday Celebration

Last Saturday occurred a rather unusual celebration. The occasion was the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Fairchild and Miss Osgood. The affair was held at the home of Mrs. Linaberry and Miss Osgood. Captain Hatch, who was the chaperon of the evening, reports a most delightful time. Appropriate place cards for the guests were the work of Miss Mabel Hatch. A sumptuous dinner of several courses was served by Mrs. Linaberry and Miss Osgood.

Board of Trade Meeting

Monday evening the different committees of the Board of Trade reported progress. The Road committee was instructed to confer with the Automobile club as to the changing of the name of Littlelands on the road signs to Tujunga. A volunteer committee consisting of Mr. Ashby, Mr. Barkley and Mr. D. C. Dean agreed to spend a half day this week in clearing away the weeds along the side of the road on Sunset boulevard. If every resident will clear the weeds along his own lot, there will be a marked improvement in the appearance of the town.

Citizens' Meeting

Last Saturday evening a number of the citizens of Tujunga held a meeting at the school house to consider the matter of devising some ways and means of advancing the interests and welfare of our village. P. J. Blake called the meeting to order and after stating its object called Fred M. Ashby to the chair. Mr. Ashby thinks the valley has a future of growth and improvement, first, because of its proximity to a growing metropolis; second, because of its accessibility by good roads; third, because of the beautiful scenery; fourth, fine climate, and fifth, because of a sufficiency of pure mountain water. With these attractions and because many of our people have more land than they need for their own use they are warranted in selling the superfluous land and it was thought it might be a good plan to list this land and put it into the hands of some good man to sell.

It is very certain that if ever anything is accomplished in the way of improvement or progress in this place it will have to be done by the efforts of the people themselves. The people here have thoroughly awakened to this fact and it now remains for us to devise ways and plans for presenting the attractiveness of and the desirability of this valley and town as a residence section. We have a number of substantial citizens here but we need more of the same class. If we get the people here the transportation facilities will no doubt evolve satisfactorily and commuters will find here a place for peaceful, attractive homes scarcely equaled, everything considered, in other environs of Los Angeles.

The Bee Club will hold its regular meeting next Monday night from 7 to 8 o'clock instead of the usual hour, on account of two other important meetings occurring that evening. Members are urged to be present. An interesting letter from the County Bee Inspector will be read.

The directors of the Board of Trade of Tujunga have invited a committee from the La Canada, the La Crescenta and the Sunland Boards of Trade, to meet with them in conference at Bolton Hall next Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Mehard of Stephen's Way were over Sunday visitors at Long Beach this week.

Miss Julia Culver has been spending the past month at San Diego and La Jolla. At the latter place she has found some old friends and will probably remain away through September and October.

Word comes from J. H. Lamson, who with Mrs. Lamson is spending the summer at Wheeler Springs, Ventura County, that Mrs. Lamson's father recently passed away at his home in the East.

Miss Avery is at her little ranch on Sunset boulevard. She is having a vacation and will probably be here till the first of October.

C. E. Jones was in Los Angeles Tuesday evening to attend the big Hughes rally. He reports a wonderful meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thayer of Monte Vista boulevard leave this morning for Long Beach, where they will spend a week's vacation.

Miss Bertha Fehrt was a week-end guest at the home of friends in Tropico the past week.

Word has been received from Dr. Edwards, now of Ontario but a former resident of this place, that Mrs. Edwards is at the hospital at Loma Linda, having undergone an operation for appendicitis a short time at the beach this week, taking a much needed rest.

Edward Greenfield, of the Western Empire and Suburban Farm Association, spent last Monday in Los Angeles attending to business affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jones, who are occupying the J. H. Lamson cottage this summer, enjoyed a delightful auto trip last week. They went north into Ventura and Santa Barbara counties and returned by way of Oxnard. Mr. Jones is prominent in newspaper circles and until recently was the publisher of the Ledger-Gazette of Lancaster, in the Antelope valley.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Barkley motored to Los Angeles last Sunday and spent the day with their children, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mauk.

Miss Grace Greenfield is visiting for a week at Catalina, the guest of the Maygrove children.

Mrs. Darlington was at Verdugo Park for several days last week.

During the past week Miss Alice Shaw of Los Angeles spent a pleasant day visiting at the home of W. G. Paul, on Stephen's Way.

Mrs. Lyman Maxwell and daughter, Miss Louise, of Los Angeles, returned to their home last Monday after spending a week's vacation at their place on Monte Vista boulevard and El Centro. While here they had as their guests Mrs. Carroll and daughters, the Misses Ball, of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Hoffman of Stephen's Way visited in Los Angeles last Sunday and Monday, the guest of Mrs. Harker, who was a former neighbor when she lived in Awanna, and though Mrs. Hoffman thoroughly enjoyed her visit she was very glad to get home.

Last Monday Mrs. Mendenhall returned from Los Angeles, where she had her two boys, Bruce and Douglas, in school for the summer. Mrs. Mendenhall thinks there is no place quite so satisfactory as this valley and she and her sons were glad to get back home.

Mr. Dunn of Stephen's Way spent last Friday and Saturday in Redlands on business for the firm of Barker Bros., of which he is an employee.

The Bee Club will hold its regular meeting next Monday night from 7 to 8 o'clock instead of the usual hour, on account of two other important meetings occurring that evening. Members are urged to be present. An interesting letter from the County Bee Inspector will be read.
